IF YOU LOVE YOUR COUNTRY, encourage Home Productions. Why will you send abroad for wretchedly spurious articles, when you can have the good and true and beautiful of Oregon material and Oregon workmanship close at your very doors?

Other articles, too numerous to mention, either on hand or made to order.

The life-spring of trade, "READY CASH,"
No matter in which way we view it,
Enables us onward to dash,
And therefore we mean to stick to it.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 28 1863

National Thanksgiving

We published last week the proclamation of the President, appointing Thursday the 6th of August, as a day of Thanksgiving, praise and prayer, and we trust that his fitting recommendation will be cordially observed by every loyal person We have every possible reason for expressing devout and joyful gratitude to the Source of all the blessings which we enjoy, especially at this time when by signal and repeated victories the dark clouds that veiled our National prospects, a short month ago are rolled away and we are permitted to rejoice in the blessed sunlight of revived and hopeful prosperity

Possibly there may be those among us who will not be disposed to sympathize with the spirit which prompts gratitude and thanksgiving for favors so abounding and special, but if so, we hope they will be allowed quietly to enjoy the nursing of their sorrow and hate for the glorious institutions which have given to our land its reputation, its [illegible] and its proud success

The true patriot will cheerfully respond to the suggestion of the President, and by uniting with the whole loyal people in suitable and accustomed observances of the joyous day will find opportunity for the free utterance of his sentiments of deep and ardent love of country, and his purpose to stand fast and for ever by the Union he loves, will thus be strengthened and if possible, made more inflexible and determined

We observe in our California exchanges, that it is proposed to celebrate the evening by a general and grand illumination, far surpassing, if possible, all previous demonstrations What say the citizens of Oregon, in the various towns, to similar action? It seems to us that it would be a fitting and gratifying way of giving distinct expression to the universal joy, with which the recent splendid triumphs are so cordially hailed

Give Credit when Fairly Earned.

The New York Tribune, which has been very free, and sometimes sharp in its criticisms of the action of the Administration, published the following article just before the surrender of Vicksburg, and we copy it because there is a great deal of candor and good sense in its suggestions. Certainly, if we blame the Administration for reverses and defeats, we ought in fairness to give it credit for splendid achievements, like those which have recently given shining lustre to our arms

The Federal Administration with its War management has had to bear the obloquy and odium of much abortive effort, all success and popular disappointment Friend and foe—the former, perhaps, a little more the severely—have alike pitched into it on every fair occasion, and opportunities have certainly been abundant It has been blamed for every reverse it could and many it could not have avoided The loyal millions have not unreasonably said to it—"We have given you all you asked—we ask of you in return but one thing Success—and, that failing we shall hold you responsible We don't want excuses nor apologies—we demand victories and conquests, and shall condemn you if they are not forthcoming Hurry them up?"

We have united in these exactions—and we now, in common fairness, interpose a suggestion—that Success, if achieved, be praised as Failure has been blamed. Do not charge all failures on the Administration and credit all successes wholly to the Armies, but let the rule which prevailed in adversity be held good also in prosperity

The disgrace of Bull Run was purely Military, yet the Administration shared the reproach, and justly, for it was bound to take care that superannuated, incapable, unfaithful, half hearted leaders should not have had control of our preparations and combinations for that first serious trial of strength with the Rebels So with other blunders, mischances and reverses The people rightly said—"It is your business Messrs President and Cabinet to take care that our sons and brothers are not sacrificed to Military incapacity or treachery; and whenever they are, we shall hold you responsible" And this, with reasonable limitations, is as it should be

Now, if Vicksburg shall really fall, and the Mississippi be opened, with no countervailing disaster on our part, the Rebellion will have received a staggering, we trust a mortal blow and the Administration will deserve a large measure of credit therefor. It is no easy task to keep such vast armies as ours supplied with everything indispensable to their efficiency especially when some of them can only be reached by a long circuit at a heavy cost of time, whereas the Rebel communications and lines of defense are far shorter than ours, and Jeff Davis, sitting in the telegraph office at Richmond can talk with all his Generals this side of the Mississippi as though they were gathered around his dinner-table Until recently, he could have directed the movements of troops in Texas as readily as in Virginia but this is now no more as we trust his hold on the Mississippi soon is to be Half a million soldiers defending his empire are fully equal to twice as many surrounding and from all sides assailing it! And if Grant shall be enabled to reduce Vicksburg, and Banks Port Hudson, while no staggering blow is dealt to the Union cause in any other quarter it will surely not be because the Rebels are asleep or apathetic but because the disposition of our various armies in accordance with orders from the Administration at Washington was so skillful as to afford our desperate foes no chance

Again we say As we have all blamed the Administration for failures when incurred so let us credit it for triumphs if achieved And when the history of this war comes to be truly written, we trust it will appear that Grant has been reinforced and supplied and sustained throughout so promptly, amply and ably, as to reflect great credit on the Government without detracting a single iota from his own merits or those of his brave and gallant army

From Fort Benton and Beaver Head.—Mr Cyrus McWhirk, from Fort Benton and Beaver Head furnishes the Washington Statesman with the following items

The steamers which left St Louis in May for Fort Benton were unable to reach the latter point on account of low water Only four steamers started from St Louis and only one the Sturgeon had been heard of at Benton She ran aground at Snake Point 180 miles below Benton A portion of her passengers had arrived who reported that when it was ascertained that the boat could go no further notices were posted that passengers who remained on board would be charged $2 per day for their board This was probably necessary on account of the scarcity of provisions as the passengers started on foot for Benton The freight is put up in such shape that it cannot be packed on animals and the only chance of getting it up is by small boats The boat is about 400 or 500 miles below Benton by the river

The Missouri is very low, as no snow fell in the mountains last winter and no rain during the spring and summer A general drouth prevailed When that was so low at the Blackfoot Agency last fall did not [illegible] up at all and the grass had not started on the 10th June No crops will be harvested

Freight from Benton to the mines is fifteen cents

All who crossed to Benton this summer intending to go to St Louis on the steamers, were still there Traveling in small boats is unsafe on account of the Indians All the boats but one last year were robbed and one party from Salmon had about $125 000 in dust taken from them The main object of the Indians seemed to be to get arms and ammunition

The mining prospects at Beaver Head continue encouraging All who have claims are making money, and the less fortunate can find ready employment at $5 per day

New diggings reported very rich, were discovered in June on a stream called Stinking Water about sixty miles from Bannock City

Several large trains with goods and provisions had arrived in the mines from Denver Colorado Territory Supplies were also arriving in considerable quantities from Salt Lake Provisions were cheap bacon selling at 25c per pound, and flour at $6 to $8 per hundred

Immigrants from the States were arriving in the mines and reported a large number on the road—about equally divided between Beaver Head and Boise

Good mines are said to exist on Yellowstone river A party who went there last spring to prospect were driven out by Crow Indians, and three of the number killed and three wounded

A valuable silver lode has been discovered near Lemhi the old Mormon fort on Salmon river

The season in Bitter Root valley has been favorable and the crop will be an average one

Why Gen Curtis was Superceded.—The following letter from the President written May 27th, explains his reasons for appointing Gen Schofield to supercede Gen Curtis at St Louis

Gen J M Schofield—Dear Sir Having removed Gen Curtis and assigned you to the command of the Department of the Missouri, I think it may be of some advantage for me to state to you why I did it I did not relieve Gen Curtis because of my full conviction that he had done wrong by [illegible] or omission I did it because of a conviction in my mind that the Union men of Missouri constituting when united a vast majority of the whole people have entered into a pestilent factional quarrel among themselves, Gen Curtis perhaps not of choice, being the head of one faction, and Gov Gamble that of the other After months of labor to reconcile the difficulty it seemed to grow worse and worse until I felt it my duty to break it up somehow and as I could not remove Gov Gamble I had to remove Gen Curtis Now that you are in the position, I wish you to undo nothing merely because Gen Curtis or Gov Gamble did it but to exercise your own judgment and do right for the public interest Let your military measures be strong enough to repel the invaders and keep the peace, and not so strong as to unnecessarily harass and persecute the people It is a difficult role, and so much greater will be the honor if you perform it well! If both factions, or neither, shall abuse you, you will probably be about right. Beware of being assailed by one and praised by the other Yours truly

A LINCOLN

A Movement to Restore the Loyal State Government of Tennessee.—We find the following call in the Nashville papers

Nashville, June 20, 1863.—As the time approaches for our biennial State election it is proper that the friends of the government should confer together in relation to it We, therefore, respectfully suggest to those of our fellow citizens who desire to maintain the State government in connection with the Federal Union as it stood prior to the rebellion and the war, to meet in convention by their delegates at the capitol in Nashville on Wednesday, the 1st day of July next We trust that a full representation will be present from every county in the State, as the business to be considered is of vital importance to its future welfare

The Hero of Vicksburg.—Peter Apple, of Oakland, Indiana according to the Indianapolis Journal is the hero of the siege of Vicksburg In the late assault on the rebel works he did not notice that our men were recoiling under the terrific fire of the rebel batteries, but pressed on until he reached one of the rebel guns and seizing a gunner by the collar, brought him into our lines saying "[illegible], why didn't you come on?" Every fellow might have got one

Bad Symptom.—It is reported that Simon Cameron is a warm adherent to the fortune of Gen McClellan, and is decidedly in favor of his election to the Presidency He made a speech at Harrisburg lately earnestly advocating Little Mac's being put in charge of the special troops raised to resist the rebel raid We hope if the General has any true friends they will save him from the dangers of intimacy with old Simon

Dr Robert Newell, of Lapwai and formerly of Champoeg has announced himself as an independent candidate for Delegate to Congress from Idaho Territory

The official vote of Walla Walla county is as follows Cole 298, Rivnor, 140; Fursey 23 Kinrey 17

Fort Walla Walla is to be enlarged to a two regiment post

LATER FROM THE EAST.

We have no dispatch this morning but find in papers some later [illegible] noted ing &c, which we publish [illegible]

New York July 17th

General Kilpatrick arrived here last night A force of cavalry as a mounted patrol will be immediately organized

Probably the last fight of consequence took place last night near Twenty ninth street where a military force had been sent to drive away the scoundrels who were plundering the houses there The mob concentrated strongly, and the military withdrew

Nearly every house on the corner of [illegible] on both sides of the street, was filled with the mob, who fired bullets, stones, and other deadly missiles upon the soldiers

The Times' report says that fifteen members of the Seventh regiment were killed Seven hundred regulars were sent up as reinforcements, when a terrible battle took place Eleven rioters were killed eighteen wounded and thirty five taken prisoners The police are constantly bringing in prisoners

A gentleman here has intimated that the losses by fire during the recent riot will reach four hundred thousand dollars

In accordance with a call last night some five thousand Irishmen assembled in front of Bishop Hughes residence and were addressed by him He counseled them to bear their supposed evils rather than commit greater He exhorted them to stop riotous proceedings The crowd then dispersed

Chicago July 18.—The New York Times, in regard to the riot of Thursday, July 14th says The appearance of the city in the morning was gloomy and warlike Business was to a great extent suspended Squads of police and soldiers were marched hither and thither toward the scene of violence Before noon all cars and stages stopped, the throng that usually promenaded Broadway had given place to the continuous march of police and military and ominous looking men in ragged clothes, with bronzed faces, moving to the aid of the rioters The laborers on new buildings and in large manufacturing establishments and the laborers along the docks all left work early in the morning They were compelled in many instances to do so by the mob In some cases it would appear that a part of the mob would command persons to join them under threats of having their houses burned Everywhere almost the whole of the middle and laboring classes turned out to aid the rioters(?) All army news utterly lost interest During the greater part of the morning the mob contented themselves with denouncing the draft At about 11 o'clock a large crowd marched through the Seventh and Eleventh wards impressing into their ranks every able bodied man they could find

Lieutenant Wood, with a company of marines, met the rioters at the corner of Pitt and Grand streets The mob immediately commenced the attack The marines fired killing one, wounding several, including two women and two children The mob hastily dispersed

In the Sixteenth ward a large crowd attacked twenty-five volunteer citizens and stoned them from Thirty-fifth to Twenty seventh street then the volunteers charged on the mob which scattered in every direction

About noon, several hundred rioters assembled at the corner of Second avenue and Twenty second street The sidewalks for several blocks swarmed with excited men, women and children who seemed determined to capture the Union Steam Works and the Arsenal The mob broke the doors and windows rushed in and possessed themselves of carbines, some carrying away two apiece—While they were thus engaged, a force of three hundred police assembled around the entrances of the building A part entered, and the mob attempting to escape was vigorously attacked on all and [illegible] minutes the [illegible]

Many [illegible] inside jumped at the windows to escape While this was going on, a large number of women, manifest[illegible] more pluck than the men rushed excitedly forward and threw bricks and stones at the police, fiercely screaming all the while After the mob was driven off the police marched away, when the mob, being largely augmented returned and again took possession of the building The Eighteenth Ward police attempted to drive them off, but were repulsed. At half past two p m a detachment of regulars and police arrived and were received with a shower of stones and brick The police charged on the mob so impetuously that they in every instance threw down their carbines and ran The regulars fired on the crowd in every instance where they did not immediately disperse, and the streets were entirely cleared in a few moments A large number were killed and wounded Many citizens who had taken no part, as well as women and children, were shot in the streets After the mob had scattered the police took possession of the carbines After the departure of the police, large crowds again assembled in the streets loudly expressing their determination to avenge the death of their friends, and urging some concerted measures for organization and the procurement of arms One man more vehement than the others, consented to assume the command, and called upon all to follow him to punish the aristocrats of Fifth avenue The crowd, however, was not enthusiastic enough, and his adherents were composed of only some two or three dozen boys and a half dozen men Harangues were made to each of the several crowds in the vicinity They fully determined to meet in the evening and conclude upon a course of action

Later.—A mob numbering about 1,000 congregated in the vicinity of First Avenue and Forty second street, armed with pistols clubs and knives They were attacked by a company of 90 men, with four thirty two pounders A battle ensued, lasting a quarter of an hour The soldiers were finally driven back to the arsenal As they passed Thirty-fourth street, the rioters closed on them on all sides The suddenness of the movement caused the soldiers to waver for a moment but they soon rallied, and with a furious charge drove the rioters into the houses The police shortly afterward arrived and marched through the streets for several blocks but met with no opposition the rioters having gone toward Tompkins' Square, on the route breaking open every hardware store, for the purpose of securing ammunition. Several stores on Sixth and Tenth streets were gutted

In the evening there was a conflict between the police and rioters on West Forty seventh street in which the rioters got worsted. The columns of the paper (the New York Times) are filled with accounts of numerous store and groceries and private residences which the mob pillaged whose main object seemed to be plunder

San Francisco July 20.—The ship Stars and Stripes arrived to day 158 days from New York She reports that on the 13th of April between St Paul and the island of Fernando Noronha, she saw a rebel steamer which came within a quarter of a mile of her She had her ports open and decks lighted, but after stopping a short time stood off with all possible speed The Stars and Stripes reports that she showed several lights about deck and thinks these caused the steamer to mistake her for a vessel of war The Stars and Stripes in latitude 1 [illegible] south longitude 16° 4, boarded a French ship which reported having been spoken by the rebel steamer Alabama It is not impossible that the Alabama may be on the Pacific by this time

Fearful.—A few days ago a couple of gentlemen, in the store of a prominent merchant here, were discussing the reports of the burning of Charleston by the Confederates Enter two aborigenes from Pike, who listened to the conversation with the greatest interest At the termination of the discussion, the most shadowy of the Pikes inquired which party had burned Charleston "The Federals," was the reply "Then," said the emaciated one, in a tone of impressive solemnity, "turn this city will be burnt in a few days, too!" He cast an incendiary glance around, and left Grand tableau of horror

Cooler.—Yesterday morning the atmosphere was hot and sultry, and the weather-wise predicted a still warmer afternoon than that of Sunday We were much relieved, however, by a slight but refreshing breeze which sprung up shortly after noon, and rendered the evening comparatively comfortable At 11 o'clock in the morning the thermometer indicated 99° in the shade, and at 4 o'clock it had fallen to 92°

The Theater.—The successful drama of the "Rag Picker of Paris" will be repeated at this pleasant place of amusement this evening This piece gave satisfaction on Saturday night, which induces the manager to reproduce it for the benefit of those who did not witness the last representation The performances will conclude with a laughable farce

Arrived.—The steamer Wilson G Hunt arrived from the Cascades last evening at a later hour than usual, bringing upwards of 225 pounds of gold dust to Wells, Fargo & Co, besides a considerable quantity in private hands

Recorder's Court.—Two gentlemen, named respectively McKew and Hagren, were brought before the Recorder charged with violent and disorderly conduct Both the prisoners pleaded guilty, and were each fined $5 and costs Having handed into Court the necessary funds, they went on their way rejoicing

Excursion.—The fleet little steamer Leviathan started last evening down the river with a party of excursionists and a lively band of music, to enjoy the pleasures of a sail by moonlight The trip must have been a delightful one, as the night was everything that could be desired

Thomas Jefferson on the Higher Law of Necessity

It is well known that Judge Douglas—a pre eminent Democrat—entertained views of the war powers of the Constitution and the higher law of necessity and self preservation which were identical with those advanced by the National Administration in justification of its summary dealing with public enemies in the loyal States. We now propose to offer the opinions of another eminent Democrat—no less a man than Thomas Jefferson—in support of the same views. These opinions we find in a letter written by him after his retirement from public life, to his friend J. C. Calvin. It presents clearly his idea of the laws of necessity in times of public danger, and after he had enjoyed opportunities in his Presidential career to test by experience the soundness of such opinions. He argues the matter as follows, and the reader will be able to make the application to the present times for himself:

The question you propose, whether circumstances do not sometimes occur, which make it a duty in an officer of high trust to assume authorities beyond the law, is easy of solution in principle, but sometimes embarrassing in practice. A strict observance of the written laws is doubtless one of the highest duties of a good citizen, but it is not the highest. The laws of necessity, of self preservation, of saving our country when in danger, are of higher obligation. To lose our country by a scrupulous adherence to written law, would be to lose itself with life, liberty, property and all those who are enjoying them with us, thus absurdly sacrificing the end to the means. When in the battle of Germantown General Washington's army was annoyed from Chew's house, he did not hesitate to plant his cannon against it, although the property of a citizen. When he besieged York town he leveled the suburbs, feeling that the laws of property must be postponed to the safety of the nation. While the army was before York, the Governor of Virginia took horses, carriages, provisions, and even men by force, to enable that army to stay together till it could master the public enemy, and he was justified. A ship at sea in distress for provisions meets another having an abundance, yet refusing to supply; the law of self preservation authorizes the distressed to take a supply by force. In all these cases the unwritten laws of necessity of self-preservation, and of the public safety, control the written laws of meum and tuum.

Further, to exemplify the principle, I will state an hypothetical case. Suppose it had been known to the Executive of the Union, in the autumn of 1805, that we might have the Floridas for a reasonable sum; that that sum had not been so appropriated by law, but that Congress were to meet within three weeks, and might appropriate it on the first or second day of their session. Ought he, for so great an advantage to his country, to have risked himself by transcending the law and making the purchase? The public advantage offered, in the supposed case, was indeed immense, but a reverence for law, and a probability that the advantage might still be legally accomplished by a delay of only three weeks were powerful reasons against hazarding the act. But suppose it foreseen that a John Randolph would find means to protract the proceedings on it by Congress until the ensuing spring, by which time the new circumstances would change the mind of the other party. Ought the Executive, in that case, and with that foreknowledge, to have secured the good to his country, and to have trusted to their justice for the transgression of the law? I think he ought, and that the act would have been approved. After the affair of the Chesapeake, we thought war a very possible result. Our magazines were illy provided with some necessary articles, nor had any appropriations been made for their purchase. We ventured, however, to provide them and to place our country in safety, and state the case to Congress; they sanctioned the act.

To proceed to the conspiracy of Burr, and particularly to Gen Wilkenson's situation at New Orleans. In judging the case we are bound to consider the state of the information, correct or incorrect, which he then possessed. He expected Burr and his band from above, a British fleet from below, and he knew there was a formidable conspiracy within the city. Under these circumstances was he justifiable, 1st, in seizing notorious conspirators? On this there can be but two opinions—one, of the guilty and their accomplices, the other, that of all honest men. 2d in sending them to the seat of Government, when the written law gave them a right to trial in the territory? The danger of their rescue, of their continuing their machinations, the tardiness and weakness of the law, apathy of the judges, active patronage of the whole tribe of lawyers unknown disposition of the juries an hourly expectation of the enemy, salvation of the city and of the Union itself, which would have been convulsed to its center, had that conspiracy succeeded; all these constituted a law of necessity and self preservation, and rendered the salus populi supreme over the written law. The officer who is called to act on this superior ground does indeed risk himself on the justice of the controlling powers of the Constitution, and his station makes it his duty to incur that risk. But those controlling powers and his fellow-citizens generally, are bound to judge according to the circumstances under which he acted. They are not to transfer the information of this place or moment to the time and place of his action, but to put themselves into his situation. We know here that there never was danger of a British fleet from below, and that Burr's band was crushed before it reached the Mississippi. But Gen Wilkenson's information was very different, and he could act on no other.

From these examples and principles you may see what I think on the question proposed. They do not go to the case of persons charged with petty duties, where consequences are trifling, and time allowed for a legal course, nor to authorize them to take such cases out of the written law. In these, the ample overleaping the law is of greater evil than a strict adherence to its imperfect provisions. It is incumbent upon those only who accept the great charges, to risk themselves on greater occasions, when the safety of the nation, or some of its high interests are at stake. An officer is bound to obey orders, yet he would be a bad one who should do it in cases for which they were not intended, and which involved the most important consequences. The line of discrimination between cases may be difficult, but the good officer is bound to draw it at his own peril, and throw himself on the justice of his country and the rectitude of his motives.

AND

DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the WATERY OR CALCAREOUS depositions, and all UNNATURAL ENLARGEMENTS are reduced, as well as pain and INFLAMMATION, and is good for MEN, WOMEN OR CHILDREN.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion or Abuse.

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,

Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess.

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION,

once affected by Organic Weakness,

Requires the Aid of Medicine, to strengthen and invigorate the system, which invariably does.

A Trial will Convince the most Skeptical.

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS

Who have been the victims of Quacks

and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after marriage.

For all Affections and Diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and

NO MATTER OF HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs require the aid of a Diuretic.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect,
ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours,
ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 15, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects, and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
